Accommodation in a flat or apartment

We recommend you look for a flat once you are in Castellón. Meanwhile, you can find temporary accommodation in a residence or boarding house.

Prices of shared flats are usually around 150 € per person per month. The average price of a three-bedroom flat is about 450 €/month. This does not include the price of electricity and water, which comes to be about 50 € per person per month.

The owners usually ask for a month's rent in advance plus another month as a deposit, which they will return when the leasing agreement ends, provided that the flat is left in good condition. If any serious damage has been done, or if you leave the flat a long time before the agreement ends, the owner will be entitled to keep all the deposit.

Temporary accommodation

We advise you to stay in temporary accommodation until you decide which the most suitable option for you is. We recommend you to stay at:

| Hotel | Ubicación | Teléfono | Precios |
|--------------------|-------------------------|-----------------|-------------------------|

How to arrive to Castello

The most convenient way to get to Castellón and the Universitat Jaume I from abroad is by plane to Valencia (65 km). Other options are to arrive in plane to Barcelona (285 km) or Madrid (415 km) and then by train to Castellón railway station.

The railways system in Spain is run by the state owned company RENFE:

Phone: + 34 902 240 202.

Coming by plane and by train

VALENCIA. The airport is located at Manises, about 8 km from Valencia. Flights from the main cities of Spain and Europe land there. Moreover, Valencia has connecting flights via Madrid and Barcelona for destinations all over the world. At present, several low cost companies operate also in this airport.

Valencia Airport Telephone: +34 961 59 85 00

To arrive to the city you can take a taxi or the subway. A taxi from the airport to the main railway station in Valencia (Estació del Nord). It takes around 25 minutes and costs 15-25 euros.

The subway line to the railway station are 3 and 5. At this link you can see the a map and the schedule. The metro station corresponding with railway station is called Xativa.

Once at the Estació del Nord, take a local train (called "Cercanías") to Castellón (line C6). There are several automatic machines in the hall where you can buy your ticket.

You can check express trains timetable to Castellón from Madrid, Valencia or Barcelona in RENFE.

From Barcelona (ESTACIÓ DE SANTIS) take an express train for going directly to Castellón. Express trains to Castellón depart every two hours (more o less).

From Madrid (PUERTA ATOCHA) there are only two daily trains which go directly to Castellón. However, there are more frequent trains to Valencia.

There are local trains from Valencia to Castellón every 30 minutes (around 4 euros). It takes 1 hour to arrive to Castellón from Valencia.

BARCELONA. All flights arrive at Barcelona International Airport.

When you arrive to Barcelona Airport, take a local train ("Cercanías"; there is only one train line, called C1, or sometimes just 1) to go to the main railway station in Barcelona, called ESTACIÓ DE SANTIS.

You can access the Airport train station by following the RENFE signs, walking through a white and red elevated bridge that you'll see as soon as you walk out the terminal (there is only one bridge, and there are signs indicating the train). Trains depart every 30 minutes from 6:13 am to 11:40 pm. You must get down in ESTACIÓ DE SANTIS. It takes 25 minutes from the Airport to SANTIS (Price: 2.15 EUR; credit cards not accepted).

From Barcelona (ESTACIÓ DE SANTIS) take an express train for going directly to Castellón. Express trains to Castellón depart every two hours (more o less).

MADRID. All flights arrive at Barajas International Airport. Telephone: + 34 902 353 570

MADRID AIRPORT INFORMATION

The most convenient trip is Madrid-Valencia-Castellón by train from the railway station "Madrid-Puerta Atocha". To arrive to this railway station you can take a taxi or the metro.

By Metro. Line 8 (pink line - Madrid underground map) takes you to the City Centre (Nuevos Ministerios Station) from the airport. Then, you must change (at least twice) to arrive to the railway station (in Atocha Renfe, Line 1).

By taxi. One way trip from Madrid Barajas Airport to the city center costs around 25-35 euros.

From Madrid (PUERTA ATOCHA) there are only two daily trains which go directly to Castellón. However, there are more frequent connections to Valencia. From here you can take a local train to Castellón (every half hour).

Coming by car

Universitat Jaume I is located outside Castellón. Leave the motorway A7 in CASTELLON NORTE (exit 46) or CASTELLÓN SUR (exit 47). If you take exit 46 (CASTELLÓN NORTE) you must then take the N-340 towards Valencia until the railway station. Turn right following the signals Universitat Jaume I.

From CASTELLÓN SUR, follow to CASTELLÓN SUR until the first traffic circle, then turn left and follow the signals Universitat Jaume I.

Once in CASTELLÓN: How to reach UJI

At the railway station there is a taxi stand and different bus-stops just outside the main gate. One of the buses goes directly to the university: it carries singpost with the word "UNIVERSITAT" so you can see this map of CAMPUS.

Also, from the Castelló train Station (In Paseo de Morella) a TRAM goes every 10 min to Universitat Jaume I. The University is located outside Castellón, 25 minutes walking from the railway station. Here you have a diagramatic map.
